C.A.D.E.T. SEEKS SUPPORT FOR SENIOR CELEBRATION

Letters are going out this week to local businesses and volunteer organizations in an attempt to solicit donations, prizes and food for the upcoming celebration planned for graduating seniors.

"Project graduation" is a chemical free party for seniors and one guest each. Graduation night will be the last chance the class will have to celebrate their graduation together, and C.A.D.E.T. feels there will be something for each classmate to enjoy on the evening of Friday, June 10.

The celebration will commence with a reception for graduates, parents, friends, and relatives immediately following graduation ceremonies. This reception will be held in the Telstar cafeteria. Somewhere between 9:30 and 10:00 students and guests will board a bus for Hillside Racquetball Club where they will participate in volleyball, table tennis, dancing to Jose Diaz of WBLM, racquetball, use of sauna and exercise room, and film watching. Food and refreshments will be provided there.

From Hillside graduates and guests will be transported to Telstar for floor hockey and films. At 5:00 a. m. the American Legion of Bethel will serve the exhausted graduates breakfast.

Sunday River

Jeanne Fleet, Corres.

Parker Daye spent a couple of days with Mr. and Mrs. Ed Daye. Miss Tammy Fleet has completed one year of college and returned home.

Miss Peggy Morin called on her mother, Mary Morin, Sunday.

Mrs. Jeanne Fleet took Mrs. Mary Morin to Lewiston to the doctor.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Johnson and Brad spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Harthorne.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Russell of Westwood, Mass., were at their home over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph DeAngelis of Rosindale, Mass., were at their camp over the week end. They went three wheeling with Alan Fleet.

Stan Roberts made a yard call on the Fleets one afternoon.

Mrs. Linda Harrington has two new baby cots and they are real cute.

Ralph Harrington has been in the Stephens Memorial Hospital.

Wes Cathcart of Maynard, Mass., called on the Fleet's Saturday afternoon.

Sent in by Viva Whitman

Another rainy Monday to start the week off. The sun sure hates to shine more than a day or two at a time. Of course, they say April showers bring Mayflowers, and it's that's true, there should be lots of flowers.

Real misty Tuesday, but Russell decided the parsnips better be dug as they were showing signs of rot on top, and we didn't want to lose them. He washed them before bringing them in and we shared in the work of getting them ready for the freezer.

Our niece, Darnita Yates, stopped for a minute on her way to Rumbold. Something was wrong and her car radiator was heating up.

Had to go to Norway on Wednesday, and was sure glad it was a grand day. We had a few errands that had to be done, and as usual stopped for lunch. In the afternoon after we got home, Helen Rummels stopped in for donations for the cancer drive! A very worthy cause! Laura Hutchins from East Andover called and had supper with us. Then she and Peggy went to Oxford to have their dresses, they had made for the Grange contest, judged, at the Pomona level.

Thursday started out cloudy, but cleared out to be a great day. Russell didn't think it was going to be too good so did some paper work to begin with, then went outside to take hay away from the house and to do other yard work. Found our neighbors doing the same. Such a good day I decided to get outside too. In the evening, Russell transplanted some small plants he had started inside a few weeks ago. Peggy went to her daughter, Loretta's in West Bethel, as it was her husband, Emerson's birthday celebration. Also Lindley Wieden of Bethel, representing Oxford County Community Services, called. He is replacing Verna Swan of Bryant Pond, who was the area representative.

Couldn't believe Friday turned out to be a good day also, but was very glad it did. I had to go to town to get my car greased, to see if it would stop its groaning. After lunch, Russell, having taken the boards off from his frame house, decided it was a good time to fix the shed floor. We used the boards he had taken from the frame house. Now we have a better floor in the shed-entrance-way. He also brought up his dahlias from the cellar, hoping it will help them to sprout. Later in the afternoon we went to Fryeburg for a doctor's appointment.

Saturday morning still found it raining hard. Russell went to call for information and found our phone out of order. Thank goodness it wasn't out for very long. He had been trying to find plastic with wire inside it for the top of his frame house, and finally found some in Rumbold, so we went to get it.

Had an open Pomona meeting at Newry Corner that evening. Had hoped for a good attendance, but was rather disappointed as not too many showed up. However, we had a nice program with many speakers telling how the Grange touches your life. Also some music and a skit for further entertainment. Our next regular meeting will be May 14 and will be Youth Night, with many visitors and a very good program being arranged. Hope all youth, both young and old, will attend and bring someone with them to interest them in the Grange.

I would like to announce at this time that Sister Linora Blake of Bear River Grange #285, was awarded first prize in the Grange Dress Contest at Pomona Level, so will be going to Augusta to model in the dress review, May 7. We wish her the best of luck.

On Sunday, Peggy, Russell and I went to Lewiston, where we visited with my daughter, Wynona. Woolf and husband, Michael. I am expecting to become a grandmother at any moment, so will be staying in Lewiston until the blessed event so may not be writing next week. I will keep in touch with everyone, and just might surprise you with house, decided it was a good time

South Woodstock

Olive Davis, Corres.

Richard Felt attended the Senior Citizens at Oxford and furnished music with Dorothy Canwell for entertainment Thursday afternoon. They also played at Grand Lodge of K. of P. at Rumbold Thursday and Friday last week.

The rain hit the high mark this week. Many places flood in Maine. The berry meadows looked like a big lake.

We are sorry to hear Ruby Emery was taken to Rumbold Hospital with gallstones. She was operated on Monday, April 25.

The Tri Town ambulance workers were seeking donations for their work. Sylvia Evans and Doran Benson called on me. The unit has been very beneficial in the three towns, always on call.

Frank Knox and Dale Buck started work on the shed site Thursday and will jack up the building which is settling some.

Myra Harlow went to Winter Harbor this spring where she visited Mr. and Mrs. Everitt Wilson 10 days.

The woodchucks are out gnawing on the green grass.

I was in Bridgton Friday visiting my sister Lillian Hammon and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Andrews. Mrs. Hammon was looking better. Arthur was having a session with dizziness.

Pastor and Mrs. Thomas Schorer and children had lunch Saturday with Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Mason.

Northwest Bethel

Clarice Gibson, Corres.

May Day 1983 and another day of unsettled weather as was Saturday. Wednesday turned into a good day and was full of moon. Gerry Shimamura dropped down for a little and remarked at how beautiful the moon was shining on the river and also the full moon in the sky. Once in a while we see birds on the river now nowhere near as many ducks as we did when we moved here. One of our ducks is trying to hatch but wonder if any will mature.

This is the time of year when the boys and girls would gather to play ball or hang May baskets or maybe both. Each one who joined in the hanging would bring a few cents and usually end up with quite a goodly amount. All of these are now grown and a lot are still living on this road with children of their own. Wonder if in another seven or eight years these youngsters will start or if this is another tradition that will be left along the way. Sometimes the basket was no more than the paper bag the storekeeper put the candy into. The young men and women didn't have to jog as they got their exercise running around bases or catching those balls out in the fields. Of course, also there was a lot of running after hanging the baskets too.

Right now I don't believe there are as many Telstar children on the whole road as we had in one or two families.

Even as we talk about a late spring we received a bulletin this last week from the Extension stating that the apple trees were several days ahead in their bud stage than at this time last year.

Thursday night we had a heck of a thunderstorm. Wouldn't have even known about it if the dog hadn't gotten frightened and woke us up. Although the neighbors did mention it later.

Sunday, April 24, Bob Stearns and his aunt, Vivian Barlow, East Andover, attended the funeral of a relative, Ruth Pendexter, in Kezar Falls.

Mike and Carole Wight had an 18th birthday party for her sister, Melinda, at their home. Some who attended were her brothers, Chuckie and Kathy Mason and three children; David and Brenda Mason and two children; and Scott and Roxie Mason and two children; and her parents, Charles and Ruth Mason, plus other friends.

Debbie Seames had an after school party for Dawn April 25 in observance of Dawn's seventh birthday. Those coming on the bus were Heidi Beverage, Angie Mills, Jennifer Mason, Sarah Coolidge, and Esther Morin. Her two brothers, Ryan and Rusty, also attended. Debbie made Dawn a Strawberry Shortcake Cake. The mothers picked them up after the party.

April 26 Ryan Seames had his 5th birthday party in the morning. The mothers came with their children: Judy, Jessica and Vicki Coolidge; Kathy, Charles IV, and Mary Mason; Linda, Heather and Tracey Gibbs and of course, Rusty Seames. Donna Lawrence sent a card. Ryan had a Superman cake. Each child had a birthday supper on their day and planned their own menus. Grammie Joyce and Grampa Bob Stearns came each night.

M. S. A. D. #44 SUPERINTENDENT'S NEWSLETTER

Dr. Wayne F. Gersen

At their meeting on Monday, April 25, the Board of Directors of S.A.D. 44 voted to spend $2,874,890 during the 1983-84 school year, and in related business, voted to hold the annual budget meeting on Monday, May 23, at 7 p. m. at the Telstar Regional High School Auditorium.

The budget adopted by the Board reflects over $30,000 in reductions, made primarily in the transportation and operation of plant accounts. These reductions were possible due to the recent decline in energy costs, and the forecast that these costs will remain low in the year ahead. The budget provides sufficient funds for the ongoing negotiations with district personnel, and provides sufficient funds for textbooks and instructional supplies for the students in the District. In the professional staffing area, one teaching position in the District will be eliminated to compensate for enrollment declines. Overall, S.A.D. 44 had 24 fewer students enrolled in April 1983 than in April 1982. The position will be eliminated at Telstar Middle School, where the enrollment decline will be most pronounced in the 1983-84 school year. The proposed addition of a transitional first grade at Ethel Bisbee School can be affected by staff re-assignments instead of new staffing.

The net impact on property taxes in S.A.D. 44 will be a .17% decrease. Andover, however, will experience an increase in local taxes due to an 18% increase in its valuation. Bethel, Greenwood, Newry, and Woodstock will have reduced local taxes. The total local share of taxes in each of the five towns of S.A.D. 44 is described below:

	FY '84	Change
Andover	$206,120	+11.53%
Bethel	411,707	-2.50%
Greenwood	84,283	-2.93%
Newry	97,786	-1.07%
Woodstock	217,837	-2.69%

This marks the third consecutive fiscal year that the District has modestly decreased the overall local share of taxes. The chart below illustrates:

Total Local Share	S.A.D. 44 Towns
1980-81	$1,147,911
1981-82	$1,130,023
1982-83	$1,119,651
1983-84	$1,117,832

The Board has been able to maintain this relatively constant funding level because of the reductions in energy costs, the phased reduction of five teaching positions to reflect the loss of 200 students from the District, and the prudent monitoring of purchases and expenditures.

Within the next two weeks, you will receive the annual school district budget report, which outlines the proposed 1983-84 expenditures, and provides you with some statistical data on the school district. Please review this report carefully, and bring it with you when you attend the district budget meeting. If you have any questions regarding the development of the budget, or if you desire greater detailed information please feel free to call me at 824-2185.

MEMORIES OF MOTHER

I can still see Mother, sitting there, Dozing away in her favorite chair. The T.V. tuned in to her favorite show. But she kept on dozing, and didn't know When one show was over, and another began. Whether a quiz, or Six Million Dollar Man. Then she would rouse and listen to a while. And Archie Bunker's show brought a smile. Her eyesight was bad, not much could she see. But the sound of a voice told who it might be. She'd write in her diary, day after day, Writing what happened, while on her way. For a pleasure ride, or a business trip. Whether the sun shone, or it drizzled and dripped. She'd write who she'd seen, and where she went. What folks had done, and what letters were sent. She wrote many letters, to friends, far and near. She'd make people laugh, not shed a tear. Her list of friends grew by bounds. She'd answer their letters, never letting them down. Her family, well, it grew and grew. Four sons and four daughters Gave her quite a few Grandchildren, great grandchildren, by the score. One great, great grandson, who could wait more? She remembered their names, their birthdays too. When they got married, and who married who. A day would be mentioned, and Mother'd recall. Some incident that happened, whether large or small. We marveled to think she remembered so much. And with such a large family, still kept in touch. We'd mention someone, and she'd say their name. She'd seen them just once, but just the same. She'd remember what happened, when, where, and how. She remembered the past, as though it was now. She wrote for the paper, showing humor and wit. Each week at her roll top desk, she would sit. She'd write of the weather, whether sunny or bad. She made the people laugh, never feel sad. Her writing was acknowledged, both far and near. And to her readers, she became very dear. She taught us the worth of life and good friends. To live life to the fullest, to the very end. We'll remember the love, she gave one and all. So many good times, we'll always recall. And though she's now gone, to Heaven above, Our hearts will remember her with all our love. For Mother was special, just one of a kind. An amazing woman, with a marvelous mind. A Mother's Day tribute to mother, Eva H. Yates, who passed away Sept. 19, 1982. By daughter, Viva Whitman

Bethel Library is undergoing renovations. Rather than close at this time it was decided to keep open and bear with the frustrations of disorder. Very soon there will be an Open House. Everyone is welcome to see the finished product.

Girl Scouts are working on the Book Badge. Throughout the community you will find posters and brochures made by them to promote use of the Library. They are also volunteering their services, such as reading the shelves, stamping and gluing pockets and odd jobs which are time consuming. This help is much appreciated and a learning experience for the girls. Last fall they planted bulbs on the front lawn which are now showing and will soon blossom.

The annual Library meeting was held April 26.

Beth Hitchcock, the Library's dedicated volunteer "Story Lady" is doing a tremendous job which reflects in the attendance on Thursdays, 10-11 a. m. Forty-five children are enrolled.

Do visit the Library and see the drastic changes being made. Danny Gibbs is creating miracles in your Library. Books added recently: Fallon-L'Amour; Sitka-L'Amour; Murder on Capitol Hill-M. WOODSTOCK HISTORICAL SOC. RECEIVES SCRAPBOOKS

The Woodstock Historical Society has received two scrapbooks recently, one through Spike Noyes from the Russ family and another on animals, from Larry Billings. The Society encourages the donation of scrapbooks related to the town if they are clearly labeled. Otherwise the museum staff would have to spend a great deal of time recataloging them. The Society tries to give all donors credit for their gifts, but please remember it will not always be possible to do so in the pages of the Citizen. We will try to thank you appropriately. We hope everyone has a most enjoyable summer.

Gilead

— Louise Loring, Corres. —

The first day of May—what a glorious sound and everything is trying to burst open and pop out all around us. Today has been what my uncle used to proclaim as "open and shut day". Of Mister Sol valiantly trying to peer out behind the billowing mystical curtains of the heavens. Hear us as we murmur, Please let the victor be the golden sun—and lay to rest in the recorded annals of history the gloomy depressing days of April '83. We hear the birds all in chorus and out in front of the house, the leaves of the lilacs are finally protruding. Perched in its slender branches, a rose breasted grosbeak surveys the patches of emerald green grass appearing all around, contemplating where he shall build his castle. Walking with a friend and her five children we journeyed up the North Road towards Shelburne as the Shelburne dam was opened the night before—the Androscoggin, was churning tamponsously, with great frothing eddies and whirlpools and the color of its waters was an angry ocre green. Detouring from the paved highway, into the woodlands, we crossed over to the pipeline, for our homeward bound route. Wall to wall carpeting of lush emerald green moss sprang resiliently under our tired feet and nestled within its depths, were patches of the grey, scarlet, pink of rose topped varieties adding demure patches of color for us all to marvel at. The ledges looked down upon us, silently stalwart, boasting their own patches of the grey green lichens, and seemed thankful to be finally able to dry themselves out. To the right we heard a tremendous crashing through the brush—and further along came upon the fresh tracks of a deer, that we must have startled. Finding two welcoming rocks shaped like arm-chairs, we paused to rest, while the children had a grand time, rolling down into the valleys of moss, below and attempting to scale their miniature Alpine ledges. We were seated most comfortably when one of the smaller lads ran up to greet us, dangling in his hand, a little brown garter snake. One of the children invited Mr. Snake to return home to live with them, but Mother decided it was perhaps not the best plan—and it was thereby opted to leave the creature in its own natural habitat, to enjoy its first warm outing.

Returning home, I found my husband tilling up our garden—and the dark, rich mahogany earth, rolled away and etched itself in a broad path behind him. The musky smell of newly turned soil is yet another sign that the season has turned—and what we shall sow—so we then shall reap.

Thought for week: Past error and past poor judgment are to be learned from—so let us close all doors behind us—and most wisely attend to the present and future to the best of our own respective abilities.

Mrs. Harriet Riens and two children, Debby and David Jr., were guests of her mother, Mrs. Rose Taylor, from Tuesday to Thursday last week. Other guests included three of Mrs. Taylor's sisters and a sister-in-law, Mrs. Nellie Bourassa, Quincy, Mass., and Marie Lynn of Quincy; Mrs. Adelaide Savard and Mrs. Germaine Doudette of Milan, N. H., and a sister-in-law, Mrs. Teresa Tyoutte of Massachusetts. Other members of the Taylor family here in town gathered to visit everyone.

Tim Chapman, along with his father, Hugh, attended the annual Cub Scout Father-Son Cake Bake, held in Bethel last week. Tim and his Dad were proud to auction off their most original cake, baked and decorated in the form of a check-board. Little cookies were used as the "Kings" and the men. The best part of the whole thing was you could enjoy a "game of checkers", before devouring the same with a fresh glass of milk. Very original Timmy, and many congratulations.

PUBLIC NOTICE

The Municipal Facilities Committee and the Bethel Board of Selectmen are seeking proposals (not bids) from local artisans to accomplish (1) carpentry repairs and (2) old paint removal and repainting of the Main Street facade of the Cole Block. Carpentry repairs involve mainly resetting windows for proper operation and full closure and repairs to some sills and cornices. Exterior preservation involves removal of old paint, caulking and new paint application. Proposals should describe the methods the artisan would use and his/her capability to accomplish the work (since vertical height exceeds 50 feet) during the spring and/or summer. Price estimates helpful but not required. Proposals will be helpful in formulating bid specifications prior to formal commitment. Please address: Proposals, c/o Town Manager, Town Office, Box 108, Bethel, Maine 04217, by May 6, 1983.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Chapman and boys, Chris and Tim, enjoyed a family outing one day last week to Rockland, traveling via Augusta, where the boys visited the State Capitol Building, and returning home via Old Route One, enjoying the coastline in that area.

Anita Ferrand and Louise Loring were in Lewiston one day last week, stopping on the way home to visit Mrs. Bryant at Stephens Memorial Hospital, and taking her a spring bouquet of flowers.

Mrs. Stella Tyler and Mrs. George MacArthur enjoyed luncheon one day last week, with several friends that they worked with at Newton and Debbets.

Mrs. Evonne Patrauda had two people slinging her roof last week taking advantage of two days of sunshine.

Several people were observed literally soaking up the sun; shorts and lighter clothing were donned and as much time as possible was spent out of doors.

Mrs. Darlene Morin and children of Bath were guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Yves Corriveau, celebrating the events of two family birthdays.

Chris Chapman pitched a good opening game for the Telstar Middle School against Dirigo last Thursday. Score was 5-4 in favor of Telstar. Timmy and Chris also were bowling with the Scouts and Cub Scouts at Rumford one day last week.

Janet and Robert Corriveau spent the week of vacation with their mother, Joan, in Turner last week.

Several local children attended the dance held at Telstar this past week end.

It was reported a huge bear was observed on the pipe line, one night last week. It is assumed that her cubs were hiding safely near by.

The Fernand Corriveau family enjoyed matching the antics of two little woodchucks, playing, hugging and smooching on their premises last Sunday morning. A dozen or so photographs were taken, and it is hoped that the results will be as spectacular.

Wild River Echoes (C. R. Cole)
In the course of recalling, perhaps, some of the more positive benefits to the taxpayers of Gilead in the past decade or so—should we not record the establishment of the six permanent homes/cottages on Wild River? These six properties are assessed and taxed on a total valuation of very close to $200,000—all new and added tax revenue since 1970.

These taxpayers, in no way are tax eaters. (They ask not one cent worth of service, such as Free Plowing of Driveways, only an occasional visit to the Town Dump.)

The highway by these homes is state and federally maintained. So again no problem for Gilead taxpayers. Sound like a good deal for Gilead. You bet it is!

Quite a good number of kyakers and canoeists took advantage of the high and roaring waters of Wild River this past week to enjoy their favorite sport.

This past week Stanley and Lillian Moulton have been very busy in preparing for the opening of Evans Notch Motel.

Visitors and helpers this week end were: Mr. and Mrs. Robert Moulton and Shonn, Mr. and Mrs. Mark Moulton and Erica, Kittery.

Greenwood City

— Mrs. Colista Morgan, Corres. —

This is May Day and to me it means youth, the starting again, an unhurried time, a time of optimism and hope. All these things seem possible at the spring of the year.

Maybe it is because I grew up in this valley with its blue-green hills and rolling fields that each day they bring a message. Some- times it's about a sunset, as de- scribed by Stanley Foss Bartlett. "I love to watch its splendor change

To western lands because I know Someone waits there to watch it glow,
 A sunset means a lot to me For sailors see it on the sea And riders on the range."

On one of our lovely days I met Denise and Joshua at the base of the trail to Diamond Ledge and we started our climb.

The accelerated growth of spring could be seen all around us. Moss- es fringed the cracks in ledges. Ferns spread along the woodland floor, crowding the granite boun- ders that scattered over the hill- side.

I watched for Mayflowers among the leaves but found none until I walked along the road on my way home. "Pink, small and punctual, aromatic, low," describes, but does scant justice to this trailing arbutus, whose waxy blossoms and delicious breath are among the earliest prophecies of perfume- laden summer. They may be found under dead brown leaves of last year. Appearing as they do when we are eager for some tangible assurance that "—the spring comes slowly up this way." They win for many of us the gladdest recognition of the year. No words can quite describe their fragrance.

As we climbed, we crossed two small brooks hurrying around rocks and tumbling over them, filling the air with their humming. Joshua, not yet five, had a keen eye for "pretty rocks". His pock- ets bulged with them and he would have transported the mine if "Mummmie" would have carried it. He climbed, slipped, slid, and called it "fummie," a good sport all the way. He was really excited when he was first to discover a porcupine up a tree. He instan- tly knew what it was.

We reached the mine, looked it over, then he wanted "a break" for popcorn and a drink which his mother had in her pack. Beyond the mine there was a thick growth of young trees. I wondered how they managed to find room for their roots among the jumbled boulders. These rocks served to remind me of the mantle of ice, when in geologic times, cut grooves in bed rock and pressed land beneath the waters.

It was a nice hike and I came home with admiration for the lit- tle fellow who showed and told me about the leaf buds forming in winter to blossom in spring, and how much pleasure he had as he took everything in fun.

We had traveled most two miles before I left to walk the distance home.

"Faith in tomorrow makes to- day beautiful."—Rex Mohley

Ernest and Ina Mundt, Bethel visited us one afternoon last week. Other callers were Mr. and Mrs.

STATE OF MAINE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES District 63

Karen L. Brown, Representative

This week the Taxation Commit- tee of which I am a member, had a public hearing on the proposed ethanol plant in Auburn. This legis- lation provides for a 4-year, 4 cents per gallon exemption from the gasoline tax on alcohol blend- ed gas. The money that would be lost from the Highway Fund would be reimbursed from the General Fund.

The political support for the U. S. ethanol industry reappeared in the early 1970's brought on by de- clining farm prices. The unstable U. S. grain market influenced national policies regarding fuel ethanol. This was similar to the unstable world sugar market when Brazil used their excess sugar cane to make an ethanol blend.

I am not comfortable with this legislation for several economic reasons.

1. The Maine Guaranty Author- ity would like to issue 10 million in bonds to help build this plant.

2. The loss in tax revenue to the Highway Fund to be reimburs- ed by the General Fund would be $700,000 in 1983 (for four years).

3. The profit margin will be smaller than the mid-western fa- cilities due to 50 cents per bushel transportation cost of corn i. e. the New England ethanol will have to generate 20 cents more per gallon to cover this cost.

4. The Federal Government al- ready has three tax programs that total to a 5 cents per gallon subsidy (investment tax credit, Blender tax credit, Federal excise tax credit).

All these government programs total to a Federal 5 cents per gal- lon subsidy and a requested 4 cents state subsidy or 9 cents per gallon for a blended product that only represents 10% ethanol to 90% gasoline.

Frank Curtis, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Curtis, Denise and Joshua Adams, Local.

All members of our Club met with me on Monday for the after- noon. (Of course it rained.)

On Tuesday, Ray Holt was in Boston to see her eye doctor.

Duane Hayes and children were at the Hayes farm on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Terry Spire and children, Portsmouth, N. M., visit- ed for a few days during the week.

I attended the Delta Kappa Gamma Convention in South Port- land on Saturday.

Fred and Rena Curtis recently had dinner with Evelyn Heikinen in Dixfield. On Saturday, Steven and Colista Cogswell, daughter Cindy, and friend Dean, of Free- port, visited Fred and Rena Cur- tis. Mr. and Mrs. Carl Curtis and family, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Curtis, were in Farmington for dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Walter Curtis.

Safety Tip of the Week
 —Use Your Safety Belt

Many accidents occur every day —seat belts can save your life and it has been proven that it saves the lives of children and car-seats for all babies. Make sure you use the appropriate safety restraints and proper car seats.

A child sitting in a lap at the time of collision can be caught between the adult and the dash- board or front seat. A child stand- ing will be hurled head first into the nearest barrier. So protect you and your children by safety belts.

West Bethel

There was a good attendance at Pleasant Valley Bible Church on Sunday evening to see slides of Stan Jones' recent trip to Israel with Jack Wyrzten of Word of Life, Schroon Lake, N. Y. The slides were very interesting and gave us all a good picture of the Holy Land.

George and Harriet Stowell vis- ited Mildred Patterson in Canton last Wednesday, then her sister, Mrs. George Biden, and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Young in Dixfield.

The Pleasant Valley Choir met at the home of Cathryn Lovejoy last Friday for their second re- hearsal of the week.

and 1980 has come from conversions; adaptive use, housing rehabilitation and the splitting up of large homes into smaller units. Nearly five million housing units were "created" during this period through means other than new construction.

The contribution of adaptive use and rehabilitation to the country's rental housing supply is even more significant. What conversions result in multifamily rather than single family units, and from 1978 to 1980, they accounted for an average of 670,000 more units a year. New multifamily units averaged only 520,000 units a year during this period.

21,800 units have been "created" through tax act rehabilitation of historic properties since 1976; another 6,700 units have been renovated. Of the 28,500 new or improved units almost 40% have been for low and moderate income families.

Housing preservation and rehabilitation helped house about 30% of the extra 16,000,000 households that were formed between 1970 and 1980.

31% of the nation's housing stock, about 26,700,000 units, is in structures built before 1940. Approximately 24,000,000, or about 65,000,000 people live in pre-1940 housing.

In 1960, expenditures on existing housing accounted for only 20% of the nation's total housing expenditures. Americans spent over $46 billion on home improvements during 1981 while the value of new housing construction came to about $50 million, according to the National Association of Realtors. This rose to 33% in 1970, and to 42% by 1980.

The price of not preserving is high. Permanent losses (due to arson, vandalism, neglect and other causes) to the housing stock came to 3,139,000 units between 1974 and 1980. That is, an average of 523,000 units were irretrievably lost each year during that period. Temporary but retrievable losses (due to conversions for non-housing uses, deterioration, etc.) were even higher. They amounted to an average of 1,332,000 units each year between 1974 and 1980, or nearly 70% of the 1,930,000 new units built annually, on the average between 1973 and 1980. Fortunately, nearly 50% of the 1,332,000 annual temporary losses is recaptured through rehabilitation and the more intensive use of existing stock.

Housing preservation means jobs — when they're needed most. When new housing production declines, as during the recent recession, people conserve, renovate, and make better use of the existing housing inventory. As housing production cycles have become more extreme during the last decade, sometimes resulting in severe unemployment for home builders, the counter-cyclical activity of housing rehabilitation, a labor-intensive activity, has become more important.

Bethel has had a long tradition of adaptive use of its buildings and during this coming week it might be well to pause and reflect on this important contribution to its quality of life.

G. A. PARENTS ASSOCIATION

AUCTIONS TO BE HELD MAY 14

On Saturday, May 14, the Gould Academy Parents Association will hold two auctions to benefit projects undertaken by the Association. The first will be a "silent" auction of art objects, those made by Gould students and those donated by parents and alumni. Each piece, be it a painting, print or pottery, etc., will have a bid sheet on which people will write the price they are willing to pay for the object. If someone wants to bid higher, they write down a higher bid. At 1:00 p. m. the bidding will end and the successful bidders will be able to claim their items.

An old fashioned "voice-bid" auction will begin at 11:00 a. m. under the direction of faculty auctioneers Bill Cousins and Al Barth. Many interesting items will be put on the block, including antique furniture, silver, a week in Bermuda, a 10-speed bike, ski passes, gift certificates, wicker pieces, clothing, rare books, furnishings and many other useful items. This auction will take place under a colorful blue and gold tent pitched in front of Bingham Hall on the Gould campus and there will be seating for all. A white elephant table will display many unusual items and should be of interest to everyone.

The public is encouraged to attend these auctions and to enter the bidding.

ATTENTION

The people that are signed up for the Oxford County Senior Citizen Boston trip June 6-7-8 are asked to please get their final payment to Joan Coolidge by May 11, 1983.

S.A.D. 44 ADULT ED. TO STUDY

COMPUTER PROGRAM IN JUNE

The S.A.D. 44 Adult and Community Education program is exploring the possibility of offering a Personal Computer Institute during the week of June 20-24 at Telstar High School, composed of a 20 hour instructional program, lab time, and a series of special demonstration / presentations. Instruction would be offered on two tracks - an introductory computer literacy and an additional program track for those with prior experience with computers and the ability to write simple programs. Emphasis would be given to assisting those owning a computer to operate it more effectively as well as opening the world of computers to those who do not have a personal machine. Adult and Community Education Director Cathy Newell would like to hear from anyone who would be interested in enrolling in the program, to determine if there is sufficient interest to proceed with the plan, and to gauge preference as to time schedules. Those interested are asked to contact the Adult and Community Education office 824-2136 as soon as possible.
